Change of Venue in Nealis Damage Suit Slows Court Action

Defendant Asks Change in $3,000 Dohrn Transfer Case

Arguments to set expenses for witnesses were scheduled for 1:30 p. m. today in Lee county Circuit court in the $3,000 damage suit of the Dohrn Transfer company, Rock Island, Ill., against the estate of the late George L. Nealis, Reynolds township, after defense counsel petitioned for a change of venue in the case.

The suit is the outgrowth of an accident Sept. 30, 1944, at the intersection of routes 34 and 92 north of La Moille in which the transfer company charges that Nealis was driving while intoxicated and on the wrong side of the highway when his car and a Dohrn truck collided.

Crash Near La Moille
Nealis died in a Mendota hospital a short time after the accident.

This afternoon's arguments were scheduled to establish the amount of expense for calling witnesses again when H. C. Warner, attorney for the trucking concern, objected that at least eight witnesses from points as far distant as Rock Island would have to be called again.

James M. Nealis, Jr., administrator of the estate of George L. Nealis, is represented in the case by the law firm of O'Neil & O'Malley, Rochelle.

Answer Denies Charges
The complaint charges that the Dohrn truck, driven by William Friend, was moving west on route 34 when Nealis, approaching from the west on 92, drove through a stop sign at the intersection, crashing into the truck. The accident occurred at 12:30 a. m. The complaint also charges that Nealis was on the wrong side of the highway when the crash occurred.

The defendant's answer denies carelessness and negligence and also denies that Nealis was intoxicated on the wrong side of the pavement and that he failed to

America May Have to Stand England's Feed Bill in Reich

Frankfort, Germany, May 22.—(AP)—A bill to American taxpayers for approximately $750,000,000 for feeding 46,000,000 Germans in western Europe was described today by U. S. economic sources as "a prospect for 1948."

These sources said the British, worriedly making deep inroads on their post-war loan from the United States, would be compelled in the next few months to ask the United States to pay Britain's dollar share of German food imports.

Under the American British economic fusion of their occupation zones, each of the two countries this year presumably were paying half of the estimated cost of $692,000,000 to save the bizonal population of 40,000,000 from starvation.

Nearly 60 per cent of the population is in British territory, but the American military government agreed last winter to accept half of the financial obligation because it reasoned that the U. S. zone never could be self-sufficient alone.

Five Killed in Plane Crash Near Dayton, O.

Dayton, O., May 22.—(AP)—Five persons were killed and two others were injured today when a four-engine Army transport plane from Wright Field crashed and exploded in a field about four miles east of Dayton.

D-Day

Chicago, May 22.—(AP)—Wesley Memorial hospital is keeping a record of what prospective fathers think about on D (for delivery) Day.

There is a little red book in the maternity ward waiting room (the hospital calls it the Stork Club) in which many of the nervous expectant fathers have written a few lines.

The hospital disclosed some of the entries.

"I've waited and I've sweated and brother, she's a doll!"

"Well, fellows, my wife beat you all! Came in last and produced first!"

"We've got a potential football player. Watch for his name!"

"The future Powers model of 1966 and the Miss America of 1964!"

"I thank God I was born a man not a woman!"

"Wow! Wat a surprise! Twin girls!"

"That was one double entry. The heading Jan. 5, 1946, was crossed out and June 5, substituted. An arrow points to the correction with a note reading: 'The Daddy was slightly excited—the Mama'."

"Freedom Train" to Make Tour of United States to Stress Loyalty

Washington, May 22.—(AP)—Attorney General Tom Clark said today "a positive and demanding need has arisen in our country for emphasizing the blessings of the American heritage."

To meet it, he outlined to a White House gathering of prominent citizens from all parts of the nation plans for sending a "Freedom Train" across the United States.

It will bear the Declaration of Independence, the Bill of Rights, the Emancipation Proclamation and other treasured historical documents to be viewed by citizens in every section.

The justice department, Clark said, has in its possession "shocking evidence of disloyalty to our government," of violations of civil liberties, of juvenile delinquency, and of "the activities of professional bigots and other disrupters of American unity."

"Future events will take the measure of our way of life," he declared. "The continuing crises of the postwar world—both foreign and domestic—will try our mettle again and again."

"Our proposal today is not a long-range program. That should be handled by the experts in the field of education. These times call for something more dramatic something with an immediate impact."

"The spearhead of this program will be the Freedom Train."

He announced that details would be developed at today's conference.

"The Freedom Train" will be made up of a number of exhibit cars and will probably be on tour for a year visiting several cities in each state in the course of a 25,000-mile journey.

In each community, it is planned to have "a week or reeducation to American principles" just ahead of the train's arrival.

At least 200 cities will be visited.

Mass Murder Trial Ends in Acquittal of White Defendants

Jury Frees 28 Accused of Murdering Negro for Stabbing

Greenville, S. C., May 22.—(AP)—Twenty-eight white men were acquitted at their mass murder trial last night of charges that they lynched a 23-year-old Negro.

The verdicts were returned in Greenville county's stifling courtroom after a nine-day trial unprecedented in southern history. The state had demanded conviction—but not death—against the alleged murderers of Willie Earle, who was taken from Pickens county jail before dawn Feb. 17 and lynched in reprisal for the stabbing of a white taxi driver.

Agents of the Federal Bureau of Investigation and local and state police moved quickly into the case and within 24 hours had incriminating statements from self-acknowledged members of the mob. Eventually, 26 defendants signed unsworn statements, admitting to police that they had helped take the Negro to an old slaughter pen where he was bludgeoned, slashed and shot to death.

Three Freed Earlier
A county grand jury indicted 31 men for murder, conspiracy to commit murder, and of being accessories both before and after the fact. All were brought to trial in Greenville criminal court. Three won directed verdicts of acquittal.

In closing the state's case, Prosecutor Samuel Watt and Robert Ashmore appealed to the jury to act as the public conscience of South Carolina.

The jury, however, heeded the plea of Defense Counsel Thomas Wofford, who criticized northern "interference" and demanded acquittal to "show them it's no use meddling in Greenville county."

No Defense Testimony
The defense offered no witnesses or testimony and no defendant took the stand. Referring to the alleged stabbing, of which the Negro was accused, Defense Attorney John B. Culbertson had shouted:

"Willie Earle is dead, and I wish more like him were dead."

Circuit Judge J. Robert Martin, Jr., declined comment on the verdict. He withheld the customary thanks of the court when the jury ended the case.

The jury deliberated five hours and 15 minutes.

The last white man to die for an offense against a Negro in South Carolina was a plantation owner sentenced in Newberry county by Judge John Belton O'Neal in 1948 for killing two slaves.

Defendants Jubilant
Defense Attorney Wofford hailed the acquittal as "what we expected" and declared "we think it represents the feeling of this community."

Watt withheld comment, and Ashmore observed "I'm going fishing."

The acquittals set off a wave of jubilation among the defendants and their relatives, which was held in check until Judge Martin left the bench. Then, delighted defendants pummeled one another and their lawyers, shook hands all around and embraced their wives, parents and children.

President's Mother Progressing Nicely in Oscillating Bed

Grandview, Mo., May 22.—(AP)—President Truman's mother was reported "progressing nicely," today nearly 24 hours after she was placed in an oscillating bed for passive exercise.

Brig. Gen. Wallace H. Graham, the president's physician, said 94-year-old Mrs. Martha E. Truman's "voice is strong" and that he felt encouraged by her continued progress.

Relaying Graham's remarks to newsmen at nearby Kansas City, Presidential Press Secretary Charles G. Ross said the young medical officer saw no reason to retreat from his optimistic view yesterday that the elderly patient has a chance to recover.

The patient, cooperating with Graham's plea that she eat when she can had a fairly good breakfast, he reported, and was "in good spirits."

The president's wife and daughter, Margaret, were with the chief executive's mother.

Truman took along with him to the house a batch of official papers on which he worked during the day.

He made this observation to reporters at Kansas City before leaving with his wife for Grandview. The lines on his face and his solemn mood betrayed his worry.

The strain under which the chief executive is laboring was plainly visible to newsmen who were called into his Hotel Muehlbach apartment in Kansas City to witness the signing of the $400,000,000 Greek-Turkish aid bill.

"Guests" Devour Sweets at Castle

A quantity of food including ice cream, bananas and luncheon meat, was consumed after hours last night at the Prince Castle, 216 River street, by intruders who gained entrance through a rear window.

Mike Dusing, a driver for Beier's Bakery, discovered the break-in, reporting to police at 3:15 a. m. today.

Patrolmen Clarence Seagren and Robert Tuttle investigated, finding an abandoned girl's bicycle, flashlight (minus fingerprints) and food at the south end of the Peoria avenue bridge.

The bicycle was later found to be missing from the H. & B. scooter sales, Palmyra avenue. It was stolen some time last night after entrance had been forced by breaking a front door window.

Only minor cash losses were described by the Prince Castle.

Propose Cities Share in State Utility Taxes

Springfield, Ill., May 22.—(AP)—A proposal to help out cities by giving them a share of state utility taxes bore approval of an Illinois house committee today but the request of municipal officials for a chunk of the sales tax met little welcoming response in the assembly.

Although Governor Green has expressed outright opposition, the house municipalities committee unanimously approved measures authorizing cities to retain the three per cent utilities tax collected within their corporate limits.

City treasuries would divide up an estimated $10,000,000 annually under the plan.

The senate revenue committee upheld Green's stand against diverting state revenue by turning down proposed allocation of a fourth of the two per cent sales levy to cities or approximately $29,000,000 a year.

President Signs Truman Doctrine Into Law Today

Historic U. S. Policy Set in Motion in Kansas City Ceremony

Kansas City, May 22.—(AP)—President Truman today signed the $400,000,000 Greek-Turkish aid bill setting in force a historic American foreign policy of bolstering weak countries against outside aggression as a "support" to the United Nations.

He called it "an important step in the building of peace" and said it offered "proof" that the United States will make a vigorous effort to help create conditions of peace.

"The conditions of peace," he said, "include the ability of nations to maintain order and independence and to support themselves economically."

For the Good of All
The measure a far-reaching departure in international relations of this government, became law in a simple ceremony in a mid-western hotel with Mr. Truman's pledge it would not be used to benefit "any particular group or faction."

He announced that United States ambassadors in Greece and Turkey were being instructed to "enter into immediate negotiations" with the two governments for the expenditure of the funds, which he asked for March 12 to help halt the spread of communism in the Near and Middle East.

He expects to announce soon the appointment of an administrator of the program.

In his brief statement, the president called the measure "proof that the United States earnestly desires peace and is willing to make a vigorous effort to help create conditions of peace."

Act in Support of U. N.
Replying to the objections raised against it in congressional debate that it would "by-pass" the United Nations, Mr. Truman declared it would help further U. N.'s aims, and added:

"Our aid in this instance is evidence not only that we pledge our support to the United Nations but that we act to support it."

Of the other contentions that the money would be used to support so-called "reactionary" administrations, the president had this to say:

"We intend to make sure that the aid we extend will benefit all the peoples of Greece and Turkey, not any particular group or faction."

Earnest Desire for Peace
The president pointed to passage of the legislation "by overwhelming majorities in both houses."

Incorrect Maps Cause Filipino Air Wreck

Manila, May 22.—(AP)—Wreckage of a luxury air liner carrying at least 11 Philippine government officials and a crew of seven was found today on a mountainside on Mindanao. All aboard were believed dead.

Incorrect maps which show towering Mt. Katanglad in the wild Bukidnon plateau region as 7800 feet instead of its actual 9300 feet apparently brought disaster to the plush-lined, twin-engine aircraft on the mountain's cloud-obscured northern slope.

An American 13th airforce B-17 will fly to the crash area tomorrow to determine the feasibility of helicopter operations to speed the search for possible survivors of the wrecked plane.

It was the personal plane of President Manuel A. Roxas, who ordered Maj. Gen. Rafael Jalandoni, chief of staff of the Philippine army to fly to the scene and direct operations.

Air searchers in the biggest air hunt ever seen in the islands found the plane four days after it vanished on a short flight.

State Police Guard Negro's Rape Trial

Sylvania, Ga., May 22.—(AP)—After a three-hour trial while state patrol cars blocked streets around the court house, James Brown, 25-year-old Negro, was convicted today of raping a white woman and sentenced to be electrocuted.

The jury deliberated only three minutes.

Brown is also charged with raping a second woman, but was not tried on that charge.

Sylvania, Ga., May 22.—(AP)—With state patrol cars blocking streets around the court house, James Brown, 25-year-old Negro charged with raping two white women went on trial here today.

Brown was brought here from the state prison at Reidsville during the night. Five state patrol cars escorted him. He is charged with raping the two women shortly after he escaped from the Bulloch county prison camp May 6.

About 300 persons were in the court room as the trial was called. Negroes were barred.

No Railroad Strike Expected in Period of Perhaps 6 Months

Orator

Washington, May 22.—(AP)—Five big unions prepared today to bargain out their demands on the railroads under procedure which will delay any strike showdown for perhaps six months.

A. F. Whitney, president of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, told reporters:

1. The railroad labor organizations feel, they have a legal right to call a "quickie" strike any time after Sunday—but do not plan to do anything of the sort.

2. He believes his union and four others allied with it will agree to "start from scratch" under the time-consuming railway labor act in their new negotiations for changes in 44 working rules.

3. He thinks this should result in "a settlement or a breakdown of negotiations by Nov. 1."

Whitney's statement at a combined dinner and news conference last night jibed with the stand of Alvanley Johnston, who said the same thing in Cleveland regarding his Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers.

Twenty other rail unions will follow these legal procedures as a matter of course.

1946 Strike Recalled
There had been some doubt in the case of the trainmen and engineers, growing out of their 48-hour strike a year ago this week.

At that time the two unions had gone through all the steps required under the law, had taken strike votes, and gone on strike May 23.

The strike was broken by President Truman when he threatened to use the army to enforce his terms, which were: A pay raise of 18½ cents an hour, but no changes in working rules for one year.

The year ends Sunday May 25. The trainmen and engineers have never cancelled the strike votes, and they took the position that when the year was up, they had a right to pick up where they left off.

But Whitney said the two unions had never called a "quickie" strike and don't plan to now, that they had never struck at all last year, and that the failure to cancel the strike votes "doesn't mean we will be hasty in using them."

He noted that unlike last year the trainmen and engineers now are working as a unit with three other brotherhoods, the firemen, conductors and switchmen, to win changes in working rules. He said he believes that a committee of the five unions, when it meets in Cleveland next Monday, will decide to "start from scratch."

Expect Report Nov. 1.
That means they will start with a 30 days' notice, then have a period of direct negotiations with the railroads, and if that fails, a period of government mediation. If that fails, there will be either settlement by arbitration or fact-finding and recommendations by an emergency board.

Whitney said he thinks such a board will report about Nov. 1, but he did not threaten a strike even then. He said mildly that the unions have no controversy with anybody, not even the railroads yet, since they "haven't denied our

Senate OK's Illinois Reapportionment Bill

Springfield, Ill., May 22.—(AP)—The Illinois senate today passed the Republican bill reapportioning the state's congressional districts.

The 35 to 9 roll call sent the bill to the house where it faces an uncertain reception.

Backed by the Republican state administration, the plan calls for 13 new districts in Cook and Lake counties and an equal number in 100 downstate counties. Cook and Lake at present have 10 seats and downstate counties 15, with one congressman elected from the state at large. This post would be abolished.

Limit
Detroit, May 22.—(AP)—Every dog has his day, but in Detroit there's a federal limit. The government says dogs can't bite mailmen twice.

Each week during the summer, and hunger or animal spirits doubles the number in winter-time.

There's precedent for the one-bite free ruling. Old English common law holds that a dog can't be penalized for his first bite.

Eastern Railroads Authorized to Hike Their Basic Passenger Fares

Washington, May 22.—(AP)—All railroads operating east of the Mississippi river and north of the Ohio and Potomac rivers have been authorized to boost their basic passenger fares approximately ten per cent on five days' notice to the public.

The Interstate Commerce Commission late yesterday granted the eastern railroads' plea that they need additional revenues to meet increased operating costs.

The commission said the 60 lines which asked for the higher fares had a combined deficit of $54,000,000 from passenger train operations in 1946.

These are the authorized increases, which had been previously granted to the New Haven Railroad in a separate, earlier proceeding.

One-way coach fares, boosted from 22 to 25 cents per mile.

One-way sleeping and parlor car fares, boosted from 33 to 35 cents per mile.

Round-trip rates in coaches, increased approximately 15 per cent.

Round-trip rates in Pullmans, increased approximately 4 per cent.

The minimum price of a single one-way ticket, upper from 10 to 15 cents.

The increases apply only to interstate travel, but state regulatory bodies are expected to make their intrastate fares match the interstate level.

In New York railroad circles it was expected the new tariffs might be completed early next week, in time to be effective June 1.

Argue Classifiers of FDR Documents

Washington, May 22.—(AP)—Senator Brewster (R-Me) declared today a senate committee—not private individuals—should be the judge of whether to observe an order by President Roosevelt that some of his papers "should never be made public."

Roosevelt so directed in a memorandum now in the hands of the war investigating committee headed by Brewster. The memorandum singled out as examples an exchange of letters with the king of England and the late Cardinal Mundelein of Chicago. It gave no clue to the subject matter.

It said there were other papers which should be "sealed for as many as 50 years" because "they may refer to people who are still alive in a way which would be embarrassing to them."

Roosevelt stipulated that his papers were to be classified by Samuel I. Rosenman, an adviser and speech writer; Harry L. Hopkins, one of his White House assistants, now dead; and Grace G. Tully, his White House secretary.

Brewster's committee has been demanding free access to the Roosevelt papers in connection with an investigation.

DAY by DAY ON THE AIR

By C. E. BUTTERFIELD

Central Daylight (for except ABC, times to which it either Daylight or Standard)

New York, May 22—(AP)—The future program lineup of CBS, continuing to undergo considerable alteration, has some more changes ready. Two concern an hour on the Friday night list.

For one thing, the Fanny Brice-Baby Snooks show takes a 13 weeks vacation starting May 30, with the first eight to be filled by the network and the remaining five by the sponsor with a musical program headed by Gordon Macrae, baritone.

The Thin Man detective yarns which follow her, also will go off for a vacation after May 30, but for eight weeks only. The network will fill this spot, too.

Then on June 25, the current Wednesday night Information Please is to conclude because the sponsor does likewise. Fall plans of this quiz, on the air for a decade or so, remain to be determined.

As one of those typical gags in which radio comedians seem to delight, Fred Allen, "friendly-enemy" of Jack Benny, in many a broadcast, has been making a money-lending racket when Benny opened a New York theater engagement yesterday. It all wound up with Fred joining Benny on the stage in an argument over money.

Fred wanted his admission price back, but there was a compromise in which he lent Benny 10 cents. Also this could have been sort of a leadup to Allen's guest appearance in the Benny Sunday broadcast on NBC, his final until next fall, when he starts his 16th radio year.

Heavy Rains Threaten Southern Strawberries

Anna, Ill., May 22—(AP)—Excessive rains today threatened southern Illinois growers with considerable strawberry crop losses.

Harry Day, a Carbondale fruit broker, said if rains continue this week the damage will be "serious". He explained that fields were getting muddy, hampering harvesters; that wet weather was conducive to an outbreak of rot which, if started, would spread swiftly, and that exposure to dampness prevented berries from retaining their quality in shipment causing price declines. He added that hot sun after rains caused deterioration by scalding berries.

Day reported up to 1,000 cases of berries moved through Anna market Tuesday with sales from $5 to $6 for 24-quart crates. Harvesting was expected to move north to Centralia by next mid-week.

He said an estimation of the current crop was difficult but that some reports said there were 1,600 acres of strawberries in Illinois.

Newburyport Drops Price Cuts; Blame Suppliers

Newburyport, Mass., May 22—(AP)—This old seaport community has virtually abandoned its widely heralded 10 per cent price cutting program—a month after it became effective—because, merchants said, they did not get cooperation of suppliers.

Sponsors said they were still receiving inquiries about the plan, but in reply they were stressing that a 10 per cent across-the-board cut cannot be sustained until prices come down all the way from maker to consumer.

FLOUR SURPLUS IN MANILA

Manila, May 21—(AP)—Philippine flour importers reported a 50,000-ton surplus today in the midst of hunger in the orient.

Importers asked the government to lift its ban on the re-export of flour, saying 2,000,000 sacks had piled up in Manila. The Manila bulletin said flour was rotting on

Clever Kitty

Chicago—(AP)—Fluffy, a year old cat owned by the Philip Peterson family knows only one trick—how to get into the Peterson home without disturbing any one.

Fluffy climbs up the brick wall near the front door, opens the mailbox lid with her nose, and plunks herself in—just like a parcel. Then she leaps out of the mail box and down to the floor.

The Peterson children, Beverly, 7, and Bruce, 5, used to stuff Fluffy into the mailbox for their amusement but Fluffy now demonstrates that she can get in that way unaided.

Food Price Drops Forecast This Fall

Washington, May 22—(AP)—The Bureau of Agricultural Economics is standing firm on its earlier forecasts that retail food prices will decline somewhat during the summer and fall.

In a review of the national food situation today, the bureau said foods likely to become cheaper include evaporated milk, cheese, most fresh and processed fruits and vegetables, fish and cereal products.

The agency said retail prices of butter, liquid milk and cream, potatoes and canned citrus products may remain substantially unchanged.

Meat prices, the bureau said, are likely to advance within the next few months, but decline again in the fall. The price of sugar, it added, may go up in the fall. Price control on sugar will expire Oct. 31 unless extended by congress.

The bureau said overall food

Seek Change of Venue For Mrs. Lillie Winter

Fairfield, Ill., May 22—(AP)—Atty. H. T. Kerr yesterday disclosed plans to seek a change of venue for a trial in another county for Lillie Winter 77, on charges she attempted poison murders of her daughter and granddaughter with whom she lived.

At her arraignment Mrs. Winter pleaded innocent before Wayne County Circuit Judge J. Caswell Crebs. He rejected a motion to reduce her bond from $4,000 to $2,000 to permit her freedom from county jail.

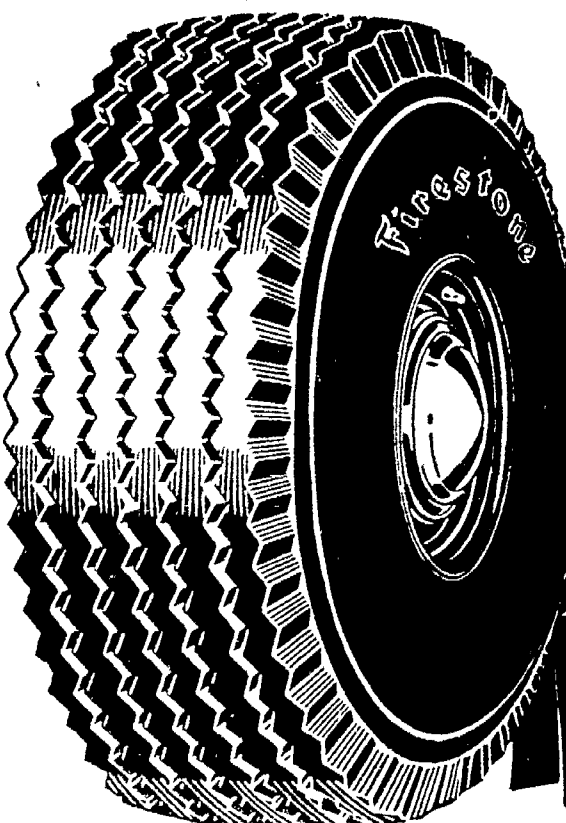

Mrs. Winter was acquitted last October on a charge of murdering a great grandson, Donald Martin, 3, whose death a coroner's jury ascribed to arsenic poisoning. Two attempted murder charges were filed April 30 after State's Atty. Virgil Mills said that a chemical analysis showed arsenic was present in milk which he said caused Mrs. Mary Burton, 47, and her daughter Marjorie, 16, to become ill.

Quacks Find Easy Pickings in Citizens Seeking Fast Cure

FDA Fights Wide Range of Rackets in Drive Against "Cure-Alls"

By JAMES MARLOW
Washington, May 22—(AP)—Crooks and crackpots find easy pickings in citizens looking for a quick cure.

A government agency, the Food and Drug Administration (FDA), is trying to stop them.

It can do this because there's a law against selling healing devices that pretend to work cures they can't work.

This week one of the FDA heads, Charles W. Crawford, an associate commissioner, said:

"At present there is an epidemic of serious violations by unscrupulous adventurers in the business of selling cure-all therapeutic devices."

All Types of Tricks
"During the past year or so we have had to deal with scores of contraptions of this kind."

These are some of the stories told at FDA headquarters here: There was a man who built a fancy machine with a strong electric light inside.

The light came through different-colored glasses. The idea was this:

If you used the right color light at a certain time on a certain day you could get cured of diabetes, cancer, tuberculosis, and other diseases.

Lamp Comes "Free"
You couldn't buy the magic lamp. You had to join an "institute" for $90. Then you'd get the lamp "free."

The maker claimed he had distributed 9,000 such lamps. He was convicted in federal court, fined $8,000, and sentenced to three years in jail. He has appealed to a higher court.

Here's nother:
A man sold two plates—one copper, one zinc—to put in your shoes.

Walking on them was supposed to set up an electric current which went through your body and cured your rheumatism.

Check Food Drugs
They sold for $5 a set but cost only a few cents to make. The maker was fined $1,000 and given 6 months in jail.

FDA officials say they've had to knock off the market any number of reducing belts, rollers to roll off fat, and exercising devices which claimed to cure all kinds of diseases.

FDA has about 230 inspectors or investigators and about the same number of specialists, like chemists, doctors and so on.

They have offices in 16 cities. Most of their work is checking on the purity of foods and truthfulness in the labeling.

FDA brings about 3,000 food and drug cases into federal court a year and claims to win 95 per cent of them. FDA has been in existence 40 years.

Fifth Bible School Scheduled to Start On June 9 in Dixon

For the fifth year, the Dixon Council of Christian Education will sponsor vacation Bible schools, commencing June 9 and closing June 20. They will be in session forenoons, 9 to 11:30 o'clock, Monday through Friday, in three of the public school buildings.

The Council pays for janitor service, and for light and water. The principals are the Rev. N. J. Broadway for North Central, the Rev. M. S. Tope the first week, and the Rev. C. L. Wagner the second week for the South Central school, and the Rev. G. A. McCauley for the Lincoln school.

In each school, only three age groups of pupils are planned, beginners, primary and junior grades.

Last year, there were 619 pupils enrolled, and larger number is likely this year. There is a serious need for more women to teach full or part time. Removal from city and other circumstances will prevent several who served last year from teaching this year.

Adults and upper grade high school girls who have had no previous teaching experience are urged to volunteer now by reporting to their pastors, to the Supervisors, Miss Erna Hoelzen, or to Vernon Mays, chairman of the committee. Instruction in procedure and use of materials will enable volunteers to do the work. A meeting of principals and teachers will be arranged within 10 days to prepare for the opening day.

Rev. George McCauley of the West Side church was the first to report teachers from his church.

Bucket of Funds Goes To Blast Survivors

Centralia, Ill., May 22—(AP)—An especially built railroader's dinner bucket has been passed along the Illinois Central system for contribution to survivors of the 111 men killed in the Centralia mine disaster.

D. A. Summers, president of the Champaign, Ill., L. C. Service club, who said he started the "fill the bucket" move, announced he would arrive here tomorrow to distribute the fund to families.

Summers said the pail was "up and down the line," that it now is full but that he had no idea yet of exactly how much money it contained.

STRIKE IN HOLY LAND

Jerusalem, May 20—(AP)—Some 35,000 Arab and Jewish civil workers throughout Palestine joined together today in a 24-hour strike against the British war department in protest against recent dismissals. Government buildings in Jerusalem and Haifa were picketed.

The workers are demanding compensation for a large number of employees they said has been discharged recently. They also are asking higher pay, better working conditions and union recognition.

Pre-School Clinics For Tots, Mothers Slated for Oregon

(Telegraph Special Service)

Oregon—Pre-kindergarten and pre-first grade clinics will be held here tomorrow and Wednesday with Miss Gladys Thomas, principal of Oregon elementary school, it was announced today.

Children five years of age by Dec. 1, accompanied by their mothers, are invited to the pre-kindergarten clinic, which will be held Friday in the kindergarten room of the school at 2:15 p. m.

Children six years old by Dec. 1, accompanied by their mothers, are invited to a meeting of all mothers of pre-first grade children in the kindergarten room Wednesday at 2 p. m.

Miss Nell Hanley broke her right wrist Sunday in a fall in her home. At the Warmolts clinic, twin daughters were born Tuesday to Mr. and Mrs. Victor Dollinger of Mt. Morris.

Sandra Moore and Beverly Jo Harvath underwent tonsillectomies Monday.

Mrs. John Leddy was dismissed Wednesday after receiving treatment for a heart attack suffered Friday night. Nine children received their first communion at St. Mary's church Sunday morning.

Woman's Relief corps will discuss plans for Memorial Day and services at Riverview cemetery at their meeting Friday afternoon.

Miss Jacquelyn McGuire was home from the University of Wisconsin for the week end.

Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Rippberger and Mr. and Mrs. Sumner Logan were callers Sunday of relatives and friends in Sterling.

Stassen Will Seek Wisconsin Support

Jefferson, Ia., May 22—(AP)—Harold E. Stassen, a candidate for the 1948 Republican presidential nomination today turned his attention to Wisconsin where, he said, he will seek delegates to the GOP national convention in the state's presidential primaries next April.

Preliminary to his campaign in Wisconsin, the former Minnesota governor planned a meeting tomorrow with a group of weekly newspaper editors at Milwaukee.

Stassen said he had not yet decided whether he would enter the presidential primary in Nebraska. Yesterday he met with members of the Iowa Republican central committee and other party leaders who came here for his first major address on world policy in which he recommended a 10-year program of "production for peace."

Stassen urged the United States to devote 10 per cent of its goods and food production for the next 10 years to build for "world wide peace and plenty and freedom".

He proposed that distribution of this output, which he did not evaluate in dollars, be made to countries that give "unwavering support to the United Nations" and he said the program should be under United States control.

Oreco, Ill.—(AP)—Stranga bedfellows occupy a nursery set up in a box in the Stanley Becker store.

In addition to her four kittens, Brownie, a four-year-old cat, is feeding three baby rats, about the size of mature mice.

Brownie adopted the rats after catching them on the premises. Her kittens are about three weeks old.

A Thought for Today

For we can do nothing against the truth; but for the truth.—II Corinthians 13:8.

Truth is might and will prevail.—Thomas Brooks.

Strength of a Country

The basic strength of this country lies in its philosophy of life
and government—not in its natural resources and its industries
as they are, but in the consequence of the first. They are the natural development of a system which places maximum freedom
for the individual above all other considerations.

Other nations have great resources—greater, in some particulars, than our own. Russia is a case in point. But other nations have not been able, despite grandiose "five-year plans" and similar schemes, to put them to full use for the benefit of the people. Super-government, which robs him of his individual freedom, likewise robs him of his ingenuity and his ambition. The individual is simply the tool of the state. He is denied much and often most of the fruits of his labors. Results are gained by mass action, by driving and terrorizing the people. But the individual, save for the man in the saddle, never benefits.

This country grew great under the Constitutional idea of a government of limited powers—a government which maintained the Army and Navy, the courts and other essential services, and acted as arbiter in the economic affairs of the country but never as a competitor or participant.
This is the kind, and the only kind, of government under which the rights and freedoms of the people can be preserved, and it must not be undermined here.

Cost of Crude Oil

A fundamental reason behind recent increases in the prices of crude oil, according to A. J. Mc-Intosh, economist for the Socony-Vacuum Oil Company, is the necessity for obtaining new supplies of petroleum.

Mr. McIntosh reported that this year's demands for petroleum will be higher than in 1945, which was the peak year. This means that the industry will have to work its wells at a very high rate of production and at the same time import record quantities of petroleum. In order to prevent drawing abnormally large supplies
from inventories on hand, new oil exploration must be intensified.

Finally, he said, the only way to obtain more crude oil in this country is "to make it profitable
for someone to dig for it."

It should be recognized that the increases in crude oil prices, as well as in the prices of refined oil products to the ultimate consumer, have been moderate. They have been substantially less than the general commodity price increases,
when comparison is made with

News Behind the News

By PAUL MALLON

(Copyright, 1947, by King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

Washington.—The Republicans
do not show it publicly yet, but certain of their congressional directors have become unduly scrupulous about pushing the tax reduction. Fiscal overseer John Taber, appropriations chairman of the house, has been working privately for more than a week on a scheme to hold the reduction bill in conference for several weeks after it passes the senate
in order to see what happens statistically. Quite quietly he explored such a possibility on the senate side (meaning with Taft)
and indirectly even with treasury Undersecretary Wiggins. He found a situation which indicated
this might be done although it had never been done before. Indeed this was the basic inside Republican strategy behind the Taft prewar days. And oil, like all other business, must carry the load of higher taxes, higher wages,

and higher material and operating costs all along the line.

The industry is developing our oil resources at a maximum rate
—and selling its products at as low a figure as conditions warrant. Supposing you could buy your other necessities at as slight an increase in price as you do gasoline—you wouldn't be worrying about the high cost of living.

decision to push the bill up currently in the senate and to pass it promptly.

The Democrats must have scented
what was afoot. They came forward immediately with their public program to delay senate consideration until June 10. By that time, they said, they would know how much the Republicans can cut from the Truman budget (actually they knew the Republicans would fall short on economies
and thus expected they would embarrass or prevent the tax reduction by June 10.)

This is all rather clear political jockeying. The tax reduction would not be effective until next year (fiscal beginning July 1) and no one has a convincing idea of how much business will earn and pay in taxes, or how much national income or federal revenue will turn out to be more than 13 months hence.

Most Republican congressmen believe that as they promised a tax reduction they should enact one; their proposed average cut of one-fifth is mild; this will stimulate business which is uncertainly working its way through a period of dislocation; that the first quarter earnings reports indicate business will be much better and therefore will pay more taxes than supposed. Half-realistically the Democrats are trying to stall the Republicans by cooking up fearful reasons why the taxpayers
should continue to pay terrific wartime rates, and let them spend the proceeds.

The Republicans would laugh off
this challenge to their basic fiscal program were it not for one point.
Actually—doubt this at your own peril—many Republican leaders privately suspect there may be such a depression as the old anti-Truman leftwing Democrats have been trying to advertise. Prices have already run so high as to encounter buyer resistance. Forecasts for the last half of this year and the first part of next do not by any means confirm that first quarter earnings will continue.
(See the stock market figures which have tended downward toward new lows despite the earnings statements simultaneously being made public.)

The issue, therefore, is no longer clear cut. The Democrats have a thoroughly mixed statistical-estimating game going on in congress, causing many Republican leaders to worry, no matter what they may say publicly. This is the basic, accurate objective inside on the peculiar situation, the reason behind the queer developments.

In this same light, the Taft strategy looks more reasonable than the Democratic political strategy. By June 10 you may know how little the Republicans have been able to cut in the face of extreme pressure from the Democratic bureaucrats who think the entire future of the world lies in their ability to spend what they want to spend. But you will not know more important things, such as how much too low are the treasury estimates on national income, revenue and business the next fiscal year (a figure which may make up far more than any deficiency in Republican economy.)

The first reduced tax payment is not due until Sept. 15. Actually the tax reduction bill could be held in conference until August.

As Pegler Sees It

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

(Copyright, 1947, by King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

No man can write a program that would quickly reduce to the prewar figure the rarity of railroad wrecks in the United States.
But most of the men who operate
the railroads have done absolutely nothing to abate the smash-ups which, since the war and especially in the last few months
have made a dangerous adventure of an experience which had been almost entirely relieved of risk. They clear away the wreckage, their claim-agents and lawyers quietly call on the heirs of the dead and the shattered and shocked survivors, the Interstate Commerce Commission surveys
the scene and the next day another pretentious string of gaudy junk strewn itself over some distant right-of-way.

The causes of these wrecks are various, but they fall into a few main groups. One is the cynical carelessness of men. By constant warnings to the railroad people in the shops, on the trains, in the towers and in the section gangs,
the American railroads for a long time, kept them alert and sensitive to the ghastly consequences of seemingly unimportant acts and omissions of carelessness. A brakeman learned that he was responsible for his own life and the lives of the other men working in the same business and the lives of the passengers. He was schooled not to give a signal on a guess that everything was all right. He learned to be absolutely sure, to take the trouble to look and see that everything was all right. A flagman never forgot his flares and torpedoes, or got left. A mechanic learned that if he didn't give a nut an extra twist, something might come loose, fall on the tracks and pile up a train going 100 miles an hour.

Two recent bad wrecks were caused by big metal objects falling on the rails, dislodged from the engines. Two were caused by careless or inefficient loading of freight.

That is just bad railroading.
The managing executives certainly are responsible, but the work has to be done by railroad workmen. For many years they did their jobs carefully. Now they don't.

A railroad executive whose own line had just had a series of three bad smashes remarked that there was a superstition that wrecks ran by threes, and added brightly
that his outfit should be immune after passing the senate, without any trouble to the taxpayer. Its passage by the senate would assure congressional action (although the Republicans are similarly afraid Mr. Truman will veto their bill and prevent them from getting two-thirds to pass it over a veto.) If that is too long to wait in fear of a veto, congress is supposed to adjourn in July, and the tax reduction conference report could be made one of the last items of business. Let both sides face that single issue against adjournment.

for a while. One of these three wrecks was avoidable. It was caused by a broken rail. The break was hidden by a plate and bolts and had been invisible to an eye-check. But they just hadn't got around to a check with "electrical equipment, which would have spotted the trouble and averted the smash.

"It is mostly due to a letdown,"
the executive said. "The working people are just careless. We have had twice as many duplicate sales of reserved accommodations this winter as we ever had before."
He, the boss, then evinced the same letdown in himself by an overcharge which wasn't caught until the next day. A comparable error by another man might have wrecked a train.

Dilapidation of freight rigs of all types—boxcars, flats, gondolas
and all—is "shockingly apparent to the naked eye."

"Many freight cars are loose and almost ready to fall off the right-of-way," an old and retired locomotive engineer writes me.
"Corners are loose and when the corner bracing in a freight car,
be it wood or metal, works loose,
the car is dangerous and rapidly comes apart."

Passenger cars look more dashing and they probably are a little more carefully inspected. That means nothing is a boxcar collapses across the track of the passenger train. Nevertheless, many passenger trains are no better than junk, some of it polished on the outside but worn out far beyond the stage where it should be scrapped or rebuilt. Still the railroad companies have stepped up the speed of trains that already were going too fast, and whip
these clattering old hulks along weary rails lightly spiked to crumbling ties.

Competition is no excuse for this. On the contrary, passenger business has fallen off badly. Last winter the railroads gained some passenger business when the airlines were losing planes in bad weather. Now they are losing it back to the airlines, so the competition between railroads and between the roads and the airlines is defeating its own purpose.

The same retired engineer, now 70, agrees with me that speed and the old age of engineers are important causes of the smashups.
Even younger engineers take desperate chances to maintain their dangerous schedules in spite of delays which are not their fault,
lest they be charged with inefficiency in their records when they should get credit for safe operation.

"I think," my friend says, "that the main trouble is with the engineers. What hope has a fireman of ever getting 'set up' if the man on his right is going to hang on until he is 70? That is far too old for the job. Our reactions get slower as we get older."

"At 70 miles an hour a train is making a little over 100 feet a second. A good engineer does not have time to think. In the face of danger, he shuts off and gives her the air. If it takes him three seconds to do some thinking, he has gone 300 feet. With another three to five seconds, for the brakes to operate he has moved 1,000 feet. I am very quick. Recently I went through some reaction tests. I am four times slower than I was in 1918, but I am still far quicker than most men, I am 70 years old.

"It takes strong, quick men to do these jobs. Make railroading safe. Give the fireman a chance at the right side before he reaches the retirement age himself."

In the present state of equipment and roadbeds, the Pennsylvania and the New York Central could drop their maximum speed
between Chicago and New York to 20 or even 24 hours. Other roads which run shabby de luxe
trains at high speed should simply announce that they won't take chances."

How much of that beautiful new postwar equipment
have you received?" I asked a friend whose line had clipped about 12 hours off a long haul for its fast passenger train.

Not a single damned car," he said. "We haven't even replaced
the cars we have smashed up."

When Ed's Crops Failed

Three years ago Ed Smith's luck went bad. His crops failed, and it wasn't long before Ed's home and furnishings were up for auction.

Half the town turned out, and Ed must have thought his neighbors were a bunch of hungry vultures—buying up all his precious possessions for a song.

When it was over, and the auctioneer had left, Sam Abernathy turned to the crowd and says: "All right, folks, let's take time out for a glass of beer, and then put this stuff back where it belongs!"

Two hours later, Ed was in possession of his home and furnishings; and the folks who'd paid for them were sitting around Ed's fire enjoying a neighborly glass of beer
—to show their friendship and their confidence in Ed.

Today, Ed's back on his feet—another constructive member of the community. And from where I sit, we've all been well repaid—a good investment in a good man.

The Tollivers

© BY MATEEL HOWE FARNHAM. Distributed by NEA Service, Inc. By MATEEL HOWE FARNHAM

THE STORY: I was off in boarding school when Otsego went into a dither of excitement
over the funeral of young Hubert Tolliver, who had committed suicide after asking a forged check. Up to that time, I had never heard of Hubert or any of the other Tollivers who were to become our town's most famous family. Father wrote that he himself had written Hubert his bank job, and that the very night of the tragedy young Amy Tolliver had called on him to ask him to intercede with the Reverend Willis for a regular church funeral for her brother. But that wasn't all....

II
AMY half whispered that Father's kindness had given her courage to beg for another favor, a very great, a very unusual favor.
Perhaps it was too much to ask.
Only for her mother's sake....

Briefly, Amy wanted Father not only to be a pallbearer for her brother, but also to round up six of Otsego's leading professional and business men, whom Amy named,
as the other pallbearers.

Father was furious.
"I'm surprised you left out the mayor," he said nastily.
"Oh, I saw Mayor Wallace this afternoon," Amy admitted a little indiscreetly. "He was so kind."
Father was immediately suspicious. Our mayor, Mr. Wallace, was a big, hearty man with a hearty manner. He was famous for never saying no to a constituent, no matter how absurd the request, but then he would turn the matter over to his secretary to settle as best she could.

Father finally got it out of Amy that Mayor Wallace with actual tears in his eyes had agreed to act as a pallbearer for Hubert,
though later his secretary telephoned that unfortunately the mayor had found out he was tied up the afternoon of the funeral on a city matter with Judge Olmstead and a number of others. Unless Miss Tolliver could induce the judge and his friends to act as pallbearers the mayor would have to keep his prior engagement with them.

BY this time most of Amy's charm had worn off. Father was now extremely anxious to get rid of her. But before she would go, he had to promise her that he would think over her request and telephone her next day. He had already made up his mind to leave Otsego early the next morning and stay away until Hubert Tolliver
was under six feet of ground.

But as Father wound the clock
and banked the fire he told himself that he deserved another drink. As he sipped the whisky
it suddenly occurred to him that it would be enormously funny to call Pete Wallace's bluff and force
him to fall in with Miss Amy's snobbish and egregious plans for a bang-up funeral for the obscure and erring Hubert Tolliver.

Either the whiskey had made Father extremely persuasive, or the mayor's friends were itching
to pay him back in his own coin.
At any rate, before Father slept
that night he had telephoned Dr.
Suter, our leading physician; Mr.
Winthrop and Mr. Allis, the presidents of our two banks; old Mr.
Burgess, our one millionaire; and my cousin Sam Forbes and his cousin Nelson Forbes, owners of large wholesale businesses; and somehow or other he convinced them that this was the opportunity of a lifetime to play a joke on Pete Wallace.

The seven conspirators lunched
together the next day at the Arlington Club, and apparently had an uproarious time. Afterward they went in a body to Taylor's greenhouse and ordered a huge pillow of red and white carnations,
tied with a blue ribbon streamer
with "The Mayor" printed on it in gold letters. The pillow was charged to Mr. Wallace.

The joke seemed just as good
the next afternoon when the seven

Down the aisle came two young girls who looked like two angels.
Their eyes were downcast; tears trembled on their long lashes. At the same time, they were not so upset as not to be able to keep in perfect step in exact time to the music.

solemn citizens descended on the major in his office and informed him that Mr. Fable, our undertaker, was waiting for him at the Congregational church. The mayor begged, threatened, coaxed, refused to budge from his chair. He hadn't a chance.

EIGHT or ten years before, when Mr. Burgess' little granddaughter had died, Mr. Fable had produced almost overnight a small, chaste white hearse and two white horses with white plumes. Naturally enough the white hearse, the white horses,
had been reserved ever since for the funerals of innocent little children or very young girls.

Perhaps in his mother's eyes
Hubert Tolliver was still a child and still innocent. At any rate
she had chosen for his last journey the white hearse and a white coffin. White flowers covered the coffin. And on top of the hearse, among the plumes, was the mayor's
pillow of red and white carnations,
with its gay blue and gold streamer, which all the world could and did read. The mayor, forgetting his dignity, forgetting his role as master of ceremonies, forgetting the solemnity of the occasion, began swearing viciously under his breath. Old Mr. Burgess had to shut him up.

Father said he never knew how they got the coffin out of the hearse and down the aisle. But while he was in the vestibule Pete
Martin whispered to him that Nettie Aldous had found out about the white hearse just an hour before and started telephoning. No one quite believed it, but no one dared to stay at home and miss the show. Father claims that he began to feel ashamed of himself
right then and there.

WHEN the coffin was at last on its trestle before the altar and the pallbearers about to take their seats, Father heard a rustle and bustle and saw every head in the packed church suddenly turn as if

on a pivot and face the door.
Mrs. Tolliver, leaning on Amy's arm, was halfway down the aisle.
Both were swathed in long black veils. Mr. Lafe Ingram and Mrs.
Ingram and one or two neighbors
were just behind them.

But no one was looking at Mrs.
Tolliver; they were staring at the back of the church. Father stared as hard as anyone else. For down the aisle came two young girls who, to Father's eyes, looked like two angels. They were in black and carried white prayer-books.
Instead of hideous concealing veils
they wore fetching little velvet bonnets, with white ruching outlining their serene faces and white bows tied under their chins.
They were practically the same size and looked almost exactly alike. Their eyes were downcast;
tears trembled on their long lashes. At the same time they were not so upset as not to be able to keep in perfect step in exact time to the music.

After a moment's amazement
Father realized that he was not staring goit-eyed on a vision
from on high, but on the two youngest Tolliver girls, the twins Florabelle and Annabelle. Father wrote:
"In my fifty years I have had the good fortune to see and admire a goodly number of exceedingly pretty and a few beautiful women. With due respect to Helen, I stick to it that if Helen of Troy had walked behind the two youngest Tollivers I wouldn't have thrown her a glance."

Father's letter went on:
"Well, that's the story. The Tolliver family wanted a show, and in a weak moment I agreed to help them, in my feeble way, to pull it off. It turned out to be quite a show. I am not, however, in any way proud of my share in it."

The letter concluded:
"I solemnly swear that this is a true if not entirely unprejudiced account of what is now known as the Tolliver girls' debut into Otsego society."

Hoyle-Emmert Wedding Party At Altar

Shown in front of the altar at St. Paul's Lutheran church, where their marriage took place May 17, are Mr. and Mrs. Gerald E. Emmert and wedding party. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Emmert of Franklin Grove and the bride is the former Marilyn B. Hoyle, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank W. Hoyle. Members of the wedding party include: Mrs. Kenneth J. Allen of Sterling, sister of the bride, matron of honor; Miss Gladys Leadbetter and Mrs. Harold Stephan, both of Milwaukee, Wis., bridesmaids; Don Shaulis, best man, and John Senger of Bloomington and Wesley Herwig of Franklin Grove, ushers.

Marilyn B. Hoyle, Gerald E. Emmert Exchange Vows in Church Ceremony

In a setting of white snapdragons, greenery and white tapers, Miss Marilyn B. Hoyle, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank W. Hoyle, Plum Hollow Road, became the bride of Gerald E. Emmert, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Emmert of Franklin Grove, May 17. The Rev. George Curran, pastor of St. Paul's Lutheran church read the double ring ceremony.

Mrs. George Curran sang "Because" and the "Lord's Prayer" accompanied by William Worley, organist, who also played the traditional wedding marches.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of white Japanese silk, which the bridegroom sent from overseas while he was in the armed forces. The dress was fashioned with a full skirt, close fitting bodice, yoke of white silk embroidered nylon, long pointed sleeves and pearl trim. Her veil was held in place by a cap embroidered with seed pearls and she carried a bouquet of white carnations tied with satin streamers.

As her sister's matron of honor Mrs. Kenneth J. Allen of Sterling wore a gown of geranium pink taffeta fashioned similarly to that of the bride and white mitts. Her flowers and those of the two bridesmaids, Miss Gladys Leadbetter and Mrs. Harold Stephan, both of Milwaukee, Wis., were colonial bouquets.

The bridesmaids wore colonial gowns fashioned with short full sleeves and full skirts with ruffles down the back. Miss Leadbetter's was of blue taffeta and Mrs. Stephan's of yellow taffeta. Both wore long white gloves and rhinestone bracelets, gifts of the bride.

Don Shaulis of Franklin Grove was the best man and ushers were John Senger of Bloomington and Wesley Herwig of Franklin Grove.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Hoyle chose an aqua dress with a flowered hat and a corsage of pink flowers. The bridegroom's mother wore a grey blue dress with black and white accessories and a corsage of pink flowers.

A reception for 150 guests was held in the church parlors following the wedding. A three-tiered

Between 60 and 70 women attended the season's first "Plae Dae" dinner at the Dixon country club last night. Golf was played during the afternoon and prizes in a bankers' handicap tournament and for high and low scores were awarded following the dinner.

Drawings for two door prizes were also made. Winners were Mrs. Faith Barnhart and Mrs. Gertrude Rowe.

An old-fashioned square dance for members and their guests concluded the "Plae Dae" activities. Lou Harrington of Rockford called the dances.

Tell of Marriage of Eileen Whaley

Announcement is made of the marriage of Mrs. Eileen A. Whaley daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Wales of Amboy, and Francis M. Crofts, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry D. Crofts of Rock Falls, which took place May 15 in the Rock Falls Christian church. The double ring ceremony was read by the Rev. Harry E. Shiffer.

The bride was attired in a medium blue street-length dress with white accessories and a corsage of yellow roses and white sweetpeas. As her sister's matron of honor, Mrs. Joseph Keenan of Amboy, wore a pink street-length dress with blue and white accessories and a corsage of pink and white carnations.

David E. Crofts, brother of the groom, served as best man.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Wales chose a lilac crepe dress with black and gold accessories. The bridegroom's mother wore a floral print dress with black accessories. Both had corsages of yellow daisies.

Following the ceremony a reception was held in the church basement where refreshments were served by Miss Illa Belle Miller, Mrs. Irwin Baker and Mrs. Louis Smith. Mrs. Alvin Friesberg presided over the guest book and hostesses were the Misses Julia and Catherine Friesberg.

Mrs. Crofts was formerly employed at Bybee's Cafe in Amboy. The bridegroom is employed at the Russell, Burdall and Ward Company, Rock Falls.

The couple will make their home in Rock Falls.

Sun Writer Does Feature on Ruth Walgreen Stephan

Ruth Walgreen Stephan, daughter of Mrs. C. R. Walgreen of Chicago, and Dixon, is the subject of an article published recently in the Chicago Sun. Written by Adeline Fitzgerald for the newspaper's "The Feminine Angle" page, the article reads as follows:

"Ruth Walgreen Stephan who is that rarity, a poet and an heiress, is preparing to do something concrete in the cause of the muse. She is bringing out a magazine, 'The Tiger's Eye', in which poets and writers 'known and unknown' may have a hearing, provided they have something imaginative or perceptive to say. The magazine will publish poetry, articles on the arts and aesthetic ideas, some fiction, drawings and reproductions of paintings by living artists, and occasionally reproductions of very old or rare things.

"Liveliness, particularly in the imaginative outlook on reality, will be the keynote of 'The Tiger's Eye'.

"Living, as she does, in a colony of artists and writers who divide their time between New York and Connecticut, Ruth has much talent to draw from, in addition to her own.

"Her husband, John Stephan, is a painter and mosaic artist, and in a Chicago church there are mosaics done by him in which the angels bear more than a passing resemblance to his copper-haired wife.

"Last winter, a book of Ruth Stephan's poems, 'Prelude to Poetry', was published in Lima, Peru, and she has been a frequent contributor, both of verse and funds, to Chicago's Poetry Magazine. For 10 years, she was vice-president of the Library of International Relations.

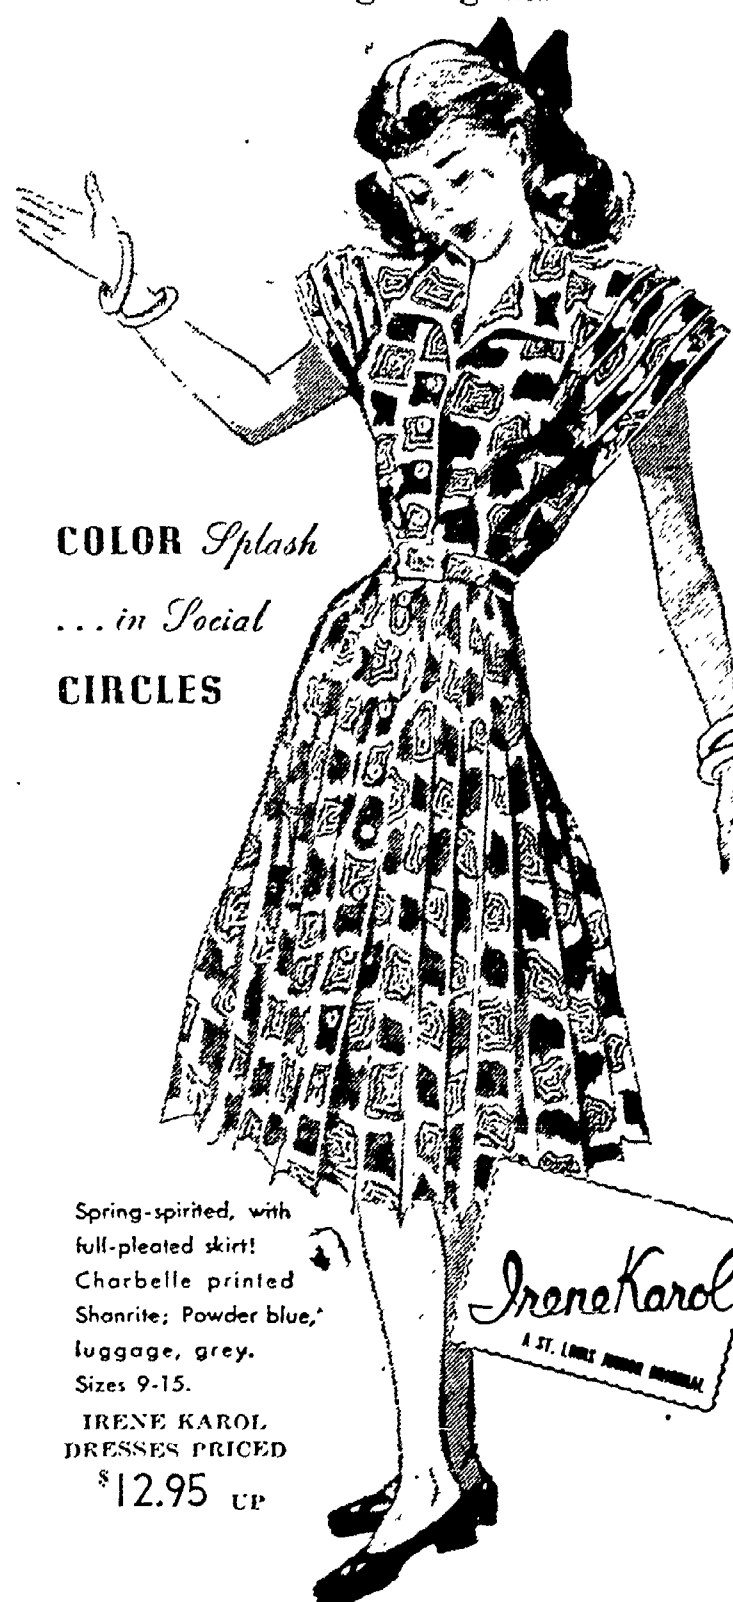

"The mother of three sons, Justin Dart, Jr., Peter Dart, and Johnny Jason Stephan, Ruth ('Peter' to her friends) presides over a charming house 'Stone Legend', at Westport, Conn. She is the only daughter of Mrs. Charles R. Walgreen of Chicago and Dixon, Ill., and the late Mr. Walgreen, whose drugstores flourish all over America and even beyond. This year, Mexico City began to know the taste of Walgreen ice cream sodas, served in the old Spanish atmosphere of Sanborn's."

WAR MOTHERS NO. 2 CONDUCT DISTRICT MEETING IN DIXON

Members of the Mothers of World War II organization met last night at the G. A. R. hall. Mrs. Nellie Covert submitted her resignation as treasurer and Mrs. Viola Strub was selected to take her place. Mrs. Helen Heckman was named hospital chairman of the Dixon unit and Mrs. Leona Flamm her assistant.

The group met with units of the Thirtieth District for a business session. Participating in the main discussion of the evening on the ways and means of purchasing a wheel chair were women from the Erie, Morrison, Walnut and Dixon units.

Following the business meeting a canned food and vegetable sale was held and refreshments were served. The table was decorated with tulips and lilacs.

The group has been invited to attend a meeting of the Erie unit to be held in the Erie Rotary hall June 27, at which time there will be a tea and a sale. The next regular meeting of the women of the local unit will be held June 4 in the G. A. R. hall.

PALMYRA SOCIETY PLANS '47 PICNIC

Palmyra Aid Society members met yesterday at the Loveland Community House. Mrs. Oscar Buhler and Mrs. Mary Frances Newcomer were hostesses for the session which began with a dinner at noon.

Devotions were given by Miss Carrie Belle Swarts and Mrs. Keith Swarts, president, conducted the business meeting. The group voted to have their annual family picnic at Lowell Park June 18.

Following the business session the women sewed and had a flower seed and bulb exchange.

Mrs. Everett Hannon, Mrs. William K. Short and Mrs. Walter Hohenadel were hostesses last night at a personal shower at the Hannon home for Miss Dixie Lee Bates, who will become the bride of W. A. Meiner of Hamilton, O. June 7. The evening was spent playing bingo with first prize going to Mrs. Charles Wallace and smaller prizes won by the guests being given to the honoree.

At the conclusion of the evening refreshments were served from a table decorated in pink and white.

Guests at the shower included Mrs. Arnold Spangler, Mrs. John Nelson, Mrs. George Bailey, Mrs. Wallace, Mrs. L. E. Bates and the Misses Phyllis Wianns and Muriel Ventler. The Misses Helen Meeks and Imogene Greer and Mrs. William Smith were unable to attend.

Miss Bates was guest of honor at a dinner party Tuesday night given by Miss Ruth Bohnstiel and Mrs. Esther Schwank at the Bohnstiel home. The dining room was decorated with bouquets of purple lilacs and white tapers. A heart-shaped bower of white net and lilacs of the valley sheltered a miniature wedding cake which was topped by a small bride and groom and circled with apple blossoms, formed the centerpiece of the table.

The evening was spent playing bingo with prizes being given to the honoree who also received a group gift.

TWO TWILIGHT BATTLES TONIGHT

Mud six inches deep on the new midget auto race track in Cleveland, O., Municipal Stadium threatens the Cleveland Indians' first home night game with the St. Louis Browns, May 23. Here workers use rollers in an attempt to smooth the half-finished track which runs close to batters box and cuts across the outfield. Indians' president, Bill Veeck, has protested to the mayor against having midget races in the Stadium.

Tribe's Park Is Mud Hole; City Blamed

Cleveland, May 22—(AP)—President Bill Veeck of the Cleveland Indians will decide today whether he will transfer tomorrow's scheduled game with the St. Louis Browns to League park from Municipal Stadium, which has been transformed into a quagmire by construction work on a midget auto racing track encircling the playing field.

Confronted with a warning from American League President William Harridge that the game would be forfeited to the Browns if the Indians were unable to provide a suitable playing field, Veeck said he would switch the game to the Indians' former home because "we are in the thick of the pennant race now and we can't afford to lose a game on a forfeit that we've got a chance to win."

Tomorrow's game is scheduled as a night affair but the game would be played in the daytime if transferred to League park, which is not equipped for lights. Veeck intimated he might go to court if the game is transferred. He said a crowd of approximately 50,000 was expected for the Tribe's first night game of the season, and that the club would lose money by switching to League park, which seats approximately 28,000.

Veeck Opposed Cars

"Somebody is going to owe us that difference," Veeck said. "I don't know just how we can collect, but we certainly can try."

Veeck has strongly opposed midget auto racing in the Stadium ever since it was first proposed. "I was afraid of this a long time ago, but I'm only a tenant and apparently not a good one," he said. "Nobody would treat a good tenant like this. Our agreement with the city was for the use of a suitable ball park."

Mayor Thomas L. Burke issued a statement in which he said: "During the last 10 days, since the Indians left Cleveland there has been only one day without rain. The work being done at the Stadium was delayed and hampered by this difficult circumstance."

"I have no desire to engage in a controversy with the Cleveland baseball club and I want the ball club and the public to know that my sole interest is the interest of the public and that I want to protect the citizen and taxpayer who own and are still paying for the Cleveland Municipal Stadium."

Bobtales

By BOB FALLSTROM

Sunday is set as a gala day in local hardball circles. The airport diamond will be in operation for the first time, providing a badly needed second playing place. To complete the picture, a pair of out-of-the-ordinary scraps grace the menu.

Merchants inaugurate the airport hardball season by tackling the tough Sublette club, current Eastern division pacesetters. Sublette has rounded up a polished combine, sparked by Frank Seno of Mendota, Boston Yanks pro football star. Seno does right well in a ball suit, too... his big stick has paced "Hap" Zinke's men to a pair of victories.

Reynolds Field counters with a strong attraction—Reynolds Wire vs. Walton. Walton invariably is first-flight. This year Manager John Morrissey claims all the regular stars of past seasons, including pitcher Stan Spolar, plus the Sisler boys, infielders from Ohio and Catcher Phil Brovelli.

Of course, "Hi" Emmert's Wiremen are no pushover off early season performances. Their 3-0 licking of Sterling proves 'em classy.

In a way, the Walton battle is more important than last Sunday's Rocket contest because another win would give the Wiremen a perfect run through the Midwest league's first round.

RE-ENGAGED—Coach Paul Crafts of Ashton high school has signed a contract to return as Aces' mentor next year. Jim Richardson, Ashton grade school coach now playing short for the Merchants, also has inked a contract.

UNIONS AND BASEBALL—Forrest Kable, publisher of the Baseball Illustrated mag and also head of the Elbak Publishing Co. of Mt. Morris, has turned author.

His by-line graces an article about the original 1884 baseball union attempt in the 1947 edition of B. I.

The publication is excellent pictorially, containing about 200 cuts. It also gives extensive statistical info.

SHIFT SUNDAY GAME—The State Hospital at Compton-Paw Paw game Sunday has been shifted from Compton's diamond to the Paw Paw lot, Manager Art Chaon of the Colts said yesterday.

STERLING CAGE SKED—Eighteen games have been booked for the 1947-1948 Sterling cage squad, to be directed by newcomer Gene Hall.

Non-NCIC teams spotted on the schedule are East Moline Galesburg, East and West Rockford, Freeport and Sterling Community.

ON MEMORIAL DAY—Paw Paw-Compton's Bluejays and Reynolds Wire collide in a Paw Paw Memorial Day feature game. The contest will be a replay of the May 4 game here, won by the locals, 6-5.

Incidentally, the Bluejays have added a new player to their roster, Tim Decker, position unspecified.

ALASKAN EXPEDITION—Monte "Spud" Bales of Clinton, formerly of Dixon, is en route home from an interesting Alaskan hunt and fishing trip. In a letter written last Friday while three days out of Vancouver, "Spud" relates his party succeeded in bagging three black and one grizzly bear weighing about 400 pounds apiece. On the boat trip he saw a black fish, described as being about five to seven feet in length with a head similar to a whale, which the natives class as being inedible. The halibut season was at its peak and the hunters visited a market where the fishing boats were unloading their catch consisting of halibut weighing from 20 to 40 pounds apiece. On the return voyage, their ship rescued about 50 passengers from another vessel which grounded on rocky shoals and was abandoned.

Electric Timer For Mendota Car Races

Mendota, May 22—(Special)—When the midget auto races are held on the Tri-County fairgrounds' one-fifth mile track in Mendota, June 1, the cars will be timed with a new electric device perfected by Johnny Gerber, track manager, and Emory Schultz of the technical committee of the Midwest Midget Auto Racing association.

The electric timer operates by stretching a long length of rubber hose across the track at the starting and finish lines. As the speeding midget racer hits the hose, air pressure is set up and this in turn operates a diaphragm. When the diaphragm contracts, contact is made and a plunger sets the stop watch in motion.

After the time lap has been completed the car wheels hit the hose and the plunger acts again, thus stopping the watch at the exact time the wheels are across the line.

Timings are taken in one hundredth of a second. Two watches are used. One watch catches the car on the first lap and the second is ready for the next lap.

The timing device was used for the first time at the opening race in Davenport and with minor adjustments will be ready for the Mendota event.

35 at 1st Country Club Play Day

Thirty-five Country club women participated in yesterday's initial play day at the course, competing for low and high scores and bank-eir's handicaps.

Evelyn Shauger won banker's handicap honors with a 57. In hole competition, Florence Anderson won the most strokes on the No. 2 hole and Fran Bovey was high on No. 5. Bernice Wadsworth was low on No. 1 and Hazel Cook low on No. 6. The latter also won a special prize for sinking her approach shot at the No. 7 hole.

"Chuck" Nilsson birdied the No. 2 hole and wound up with the low total for 18 holes, a 104 Jarlath Tarnowski was high in the straight play.

Monica Shoaf finished with low putts, 34, and Glea Roberts had the most putts. Low score for nine holes was turned in by Virginia Flower, a 57, with Dorothy Duffy high.

Low putts over nine holes was credited to Lucille Poole. Alice Peterson took the most putts in nine holes and Adeline Myers took the most putts on any one hole.

Wiremen Out for Share of League Lead

Two Twilight league battles top tonight's sports card. Tilt No. 1 involves undefeated Reynolds Wire and the State Hospital on the Hospital diamond while the other contest pairs Merchants and Amboy at Reynolds field.

Reynolds thumped Amboy, 17-4, in a previous start. The Wiremen will be gunning for a victory in order to tie Knacks for the league lead.

Either John Rucker or Armand "Fat" Roppel probably will get Reynolds' pitching call. State Hospital, with a loss and no wins, is undecided on a hurling choice.

Meanwhile, at the west end ball lot, Merchants go for their initial victory after a 12-12 stalemate with R & H last week against an improving Amboy outfit.

R & H At Sterling

Manager Glenn "Scrappy" Chandler's Amboy unit is rounding into form after a slow start and can be expected to struggle all the way.

Mound choices for both teams are indefinite since each lists a flock of permanent and semi-permanent throwers.

Game times are 6 p. m. sharp.

Roberts & Hess also plays tonight—at Sterling against the Rockets in a non-league fray.

Burt Outdoes Leo Juggling Hurlers

(By The Associated Press)

Last year Leo Durocher set a record for changing chuckers when he used 380 pitchers in 157 games while managing the Dodgers to second place in the National league pennant race. That was an average of slightly less than 2½ pitchers per game.

But now mild-mannered, conservative Burt Shotton holds the Dodger reigns and outdoes Durocher in the art of juggling hurlers.

In the Dodgers' 28 games to date, of which they've won 15, Shotton has used 81 pitchers, an average of 2.89 per game. Only five times have Brooklyn hurlers gone the route.

Shotton practically gave the pitching staff a vacation yesterday when he called upon only two hurlers to subdue the submerged St. Louis Cardinals 4-3 in 10 innings. Leftthander Joe Hatten opened for Brooklyn and was replaced by Fireman Hugh Casey, who went on to gain his third victory of the season.

Cubs Regain Top Spot

Chicago Cubs recaptured place by shading the Philadelphia Phils 2-1 in Wrigley field.

They lead the New York Giants by nine percentage points.

Frank Shea, Rookie righthander of the New York Yankees, gained his first major league shutout and his fourth triumph by outpitching the mighty lefty, Hal Newhouse, of the Detroit Tigers 5-0 before 49,844 Yankee Stadium fans in a night game.

Handcuffed for seven innings, the Philadelphia Athletics came to life in the eighth with a five-run rally against Rookie Pete Gebrian and two successors to defeat the Chicago White Sox 5-2 in a night game at Philadelphia.

Bobo Newsom gained his first win of the season and his 195th of his big league career when he pitched the Washington Senators to a 7-3 night game victory over the St. Louis Browns.

Marbles, Jacks Draw 786 City Youngsters

A total of 786 public school children participated in the 1947 jack and marble tournaments, completed at South Central school Tuesday afternoon.

Three girls and 396 boys battled for the marbles crown, won by Ronnie Zimmerman, Loveland fifth grader. Dean Delph of North Central was second and Darrell Hunt of Lincoln third.

Carole Slothower of South Central triumphed in jacks over 388 other girls. Second place went to Shirley Woolridge of Lincoln, third to Margery Johnson of Loveland and fourth to Mary Lou Lambert, North Central.

Shirley Woolridge placed second in city wide competition for the third successive time, defeating Loraine Nafsinger, 1946 Dixon champ, for the Lincoln title.

Individual Titles

Individual school winners were: LINCOLN—Marbles, Darrell Hunt (eighth grader) first; Bob Willard (fourth grader) second; jacks, Shirley Woolridge (seventh grader) first, Loraine Nafsinger (fifth grader) second.

NORTH CENTRAL—Marbles, Dean Delph (eighth grader) first, Jerry Eberhart (fourth grader) second; jacks, Mary Lou Lambert (sixth grader) first, Janet Newcomer (fourth grader) second.

WOODWORTH—Marbles, Richard Webb (third grader) first, jacks, Shirley Bodmer (second grader) first.

LOVELAND—Marbles, Ronnie Zimmerman (fifth grader) first, Stanley Scholl (eighth grader) second; jacks, Margery Johnson (fifth grader) first, Armilla Green (eighth grader) second.

SOUTH CENTRAL—Jacks, Carole Slothower (eighth grader) first, Peggy Utz (fourth grader) second.

finish from first to eighth".

Chapman doesn't conceal his glee over the Phils' acquisition of Outfielder Harry Walker, the Cardinal castoff who is leading the National league in hitting with .400 Walker yesterday belted four singles in four trips to give him an amazing total of 31 hits in 85 appearances for Philadelphia and a season total of 38 hits in 90 times at bat.

"Walker is all confidence since he joined us for a regular job. Who'd have thought a few years back that anybody could get confidence joining the Phils?" chuckled Ben.

Chapman Favors Cards and Cubs

Chicago, May 21—(AP)—Manager Ben Chapman of the Philadelphia Phils today predicted that when—and if—the National league race levels off, the Champion St. Louis Cardinals and the Chicago Cubs will be the teams to beat.

Chapman stretching his stockinged feet and puffing a massive curved pipe in the Phils' dressing room, said the last-place Cards were the class of the league and that "cream always comes to the top, sooner or later".

About the Cubs against whom the Phils were to close a two-games set today, Ben said that Charley Grimm's deft managerial touch was bound to make a dangerous contender of a club "dripping with experience". There will be a battle all the way for the pennant, Chapman asserted, but the Cards and Cubs eventually will run one-two.

Dodgers Lacking

Chapman scratched his head when he touched on Brooklyn. "There seems to be something missing this year—maybe it's the fire the club had under Lippy Durocher", he said.

"Altogether, though, it's been a while of a race so far—and you can't count anybody out. The Giants have youth and power. The Braves are getting tougher every day. Pittsburgh is really loading up Cincinnati still is in there and our club certainly isn't taking a back seat. Right now any club can

Local Group Departs For Thinclad Finals

Coaches A. C. Bowers and Marvin Winger and Duke tracksters Carrol Schumacher, Joel Lehman, Jack Schultz and Bryan Cannon departed for the state track finals at Champaign following classes today.

Schumacher competes in the 880, Lehman in the pole vault, Schultz in the 440 and Cannon as a member of the relay team with the three other boys.

Lehman was afflicted with a case of hives yesterday but Coach Bowers said it would not affect his vaulting in the state meet.

Ronnie Jones, Amboy half-miler, and Mel Meling, Paul Plumley and John Hartman of Rochelle, a sprinter, high jumper and miler, respectively, are other area entrants in the two-day meet which begins tomorrow morning.

SLEEPY FAN

Chicago, May 22—(AP)—The baseball game at Wrigley field between the Chicago Cubs and Philadelphia Phils yesterday was close and the nearly 8,000 fans made lots of noise.

But Paul Ream, 49, of suburban Wheaton, fell asleep during the game and he didn't wake up until last night. He telephoned police for help in getting him out of the dark park.

After detectives William Nolan and Dell Brust released him and put him on a train for home, Ream asked the policemen: "say, who won the game?"

(The Cubs won, 2-1).

Two Softball Lists Revealed: 1 Late

Champaign, Ill., May 22—(AP)—Early arrivals among the 850 high school athletes due to compete in track, golf and tennis championships this week end were slated to appear in Champaign today.

850 TO COMPETE

Preliminary track meets disclosed new contenders in the state for individual titles. At the Herrin relays, 15-year old John Bauer, Benton freshman, put the shot 49 feet 5 inches, and hurled the discus 142 feet. The best shot mark in all 16 districts which qualified state finalists last week was only one-half inch farther.

Bauer's discus mark was the fourth best of the season.

Bob Farr of Miles took over No. 1 rating among quarter milers by running the event in :50.8, a second faster than any previous season performance by an Illinois school boy.

Governor's Budget for Public Aid in Illinois Overridden

House Committee Urges Appropriation be Increased 35 Millions

Springfield, Ill., May 22—(AP)—A committee proposal to override Governor Green's budget recommendations and increase old age pension and aid to dependent children payments confronted Illinois lawmakers today.

The house appropriations committee yesterday added more than $35,000,000 to the amount tabbed by the governor for public aid expenditures, and indicated it might approve an extra $4,000,000 for state mental hospitals.

The committee endorsed for passage and sent to the house floor an appropriation bill amended to provide the increased public aid allotment.

After hearing Director Raymond M. Hilliard of the Illinois Public Aid Commission say Green's budget would reduce dependent children's benefits about one third, the group voted a $19,000,000 increase to $53,000,000.

To Study Mental Hospitals
It also approved a $15,000,000 boost to $145,000,000 for state-federal old age pensions and agreed to name a five man subcommittee to determine whether the welfare department's $73,687,899 for state mental hospitals and other institutions should be increased by $4,000,000.

Welfare Director Cassius Pount told the committee that restoration of funds trimmed from the department's original request would permit pay boosts for mental institution employees.

Hilliard said that reductions in dependent children grants that would result with approval of the commission's proposed $34,000,000 allotment for dependent children's benefits would mostly affect food allowances.

$2,000,000 Monthly
"Reducing food payments for children in this time of abundance and plenty would be an intolerable situation," Hilliard said.

He said payments now being made to meet "minimum essential requirements" averaged about $2,000,000 a month and that continuation of support at present levels would require at least $48,000,000 for the next two years.

Rep. Robert H. Allison (R-Pekin), who asked for the old age pension increase, said the boost would permit payments averaging possibly $10 a month higher to 127,400 recipients "with little additional expense to the state."

He said a higher appropriation was needed to take advantage of an excess of federal funds resulting from a recent change in the basis for computing the state's share of payments.

Lodges

A. F. & A. M.—An emergency meeting of Friendship lodge, No. 7 will be held Friday afternoon to attend the funeral of W. F. Hoberg. All members are requested to assemble at the Brinton Memorial Masonic Temple at 2 o'clock to attend the service which will be held at 2:30.

Minnie Belle Rebekah lodge, No. 423 will meet in L. O. O. F. hall Friday evening. The delegate to the district convention will give her report and refreshments will be served.

Church News

Second Baptist—The well known Golden Belle gospel quintet will appear at the Second Baptist church in Dixon Monday evening at 7:30. The program is being sponsored by the W. S. E. W. club to help the church improvement drive. These singers are widely known throughout northern Illinois and are heard every Tuesday evening at 9:30 p. m. over radio station WROK. The public is invited to hear these artists.

Jumbo, the largest captive elephant in modern history, was mounted after death and now stands in Tufts College, as college mascot.

KIDNEYS MUST REMOVE EXCESS ACIDS

Help 15 Miles of Kidney Tubes Flush Out Poisonous Waste

If you have an excess of acids in your blood, your 15 miles of kidney tubes may be overworked. These tiny filters and tubes are working day and night to help Nature rid your system of excess acids and poisonous waste.

When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may cause nagging backache, rheumatism, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes show there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Kidneys may need help the same as bowels, so ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, a stimulant diuretic, used successfully by millions for over 50 years. Doan's give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood.

Theological Student Is Collecting Dirt

CHICAGO—(AP)—Capsules of soil from all parts of the world are being collected by Malcolm Thompson, senior student at the McCormick Theological seminary. He's going to put them in a "pillar of peace and friendship" he is planning to build.

Among the specimens already in hand are tubes of earth from gold mines in Africa and Sarawak, from around the leaning tower of Pisa, the Sphinx and pyramids of Egypt, the Acropolis of Athens, the Alamo of Texas, the equator near Quito, Ecuador, the Antarctic, Mount Vernon and the ancient city of Carthage.

Copper Plant Sprays Cut Frost Resistance

WOOSTER, Ohio — Plants sprayed in summer with fungicides containing copper apparently become more sensitive to frost damage than those treated with zinc-containing organic materials, J. D. Wilson of the Ohio Agricultural Experiment Station reports.

The reason is not clear, he says, but it may be that zinc-treated plants were in better foliage condition before the frost. Plants sprayed with Bordeaux mixture were most severely injured by October frost, he adds.

Special Committee Reports to General Assembly on Mining

Springfield, Ill., May 22—(AP)—Recommendations to strengthen safety provisions of state mining laws and improve their enforcement have been submitted to the Illinois general assembly by a special legislative committee that investigated the Centralia mine disaster.

The proposals were contained in the committee's majority report, filed yesterday. Four Democratic committee members did not sign the report and continued work on minority findings which they said would be presented later.

The group's six majority Republicans included in their report recommendations for legislation to:

1. Place state mine inspectors under civil service and require them to check mines once a month.
2. Increase their numbers from the present 16 to 25, including one for each of 22 proposed new inspection districts and three for the state at large.

Changes in Law Proposed
3. Make solicitation or acceptance of political campaign funds by state inspectors or mine department officials a felony punishable by removal from office, fines up to $5,000 and one year's imprisonment.

As a result of its inquiry into the explosion in which 111 miners perished March 25 at the Centralia Coal Company's mine No. 5, the majority group headed by Senator Merritt J. Little (R-Aurora), committee chairman, also recommended mining law changes that would:

Prohibit on-shift shooting with explosives, establish additional mine rescue stations and set up mobile rescue units, raise mine ventilation standards, require more extensive rock dusting to prevent the spread of explosions and ban smoking and use of open flame lamps in mines classified as gaseous.

Early Robot Bombs

The United States built five robot plane bombs in 1918. They bore little resemblance to the buzz-bombs of World War II, however, and were never used because of their "potential destructive power."

Japanese Learning to Total Own Statistics

TOKYO—After all these years, the Japanese finally are going to learn how to use the mountains of statistics they have collected.

The first step will be to learn how to add.

A special statistical mission to Allied Headquarters emerged from a three months' study of Japan's national bookkeeping and recommended that detailed courses in statistics be given in Japanese schools.

Japanese officials collect information on everything. But no two government departments ever reach the same totals. Japanese agencies cannot even determine accurately how big a rice crop will be.

Someone always slips a thumb on his abacus.

Hotel Guests More Honest, House Dick Informs Hal Boyle

Something New Each Day In Life of a House Detective

By Hal Boyle
Little Rock, Ark. — (AP)—Hotel guests are getting more honest. "Since the war they don't take so many towels and sheets," said W. H. Howard, a veteran house detective. "About all we lose is soap now. The souvenir collectors aren't much of a problem." Like so many "house dicks", Howard, a fatherly man of 65, is a former law enforcement officer. Hotels prefer for this work elderly men with a background of police experience because they have learned how to handle embarrassing situations with tact and diplomacy. Howard carries a police revolver but has never had to use it. He walks from five to 10 miles a night during the 10 hours he is on duty. Always a New Twist "There's hardly a night that something new doesn't turn up," said Howard, such as the evening he met a soldier who cut one end off his pillow and dreamily shook it out the window just to watch the feathers float down. In Howard's opinion the soldier belonged to the poetic rather than the criminal type. He said that most guests are easy to deal with and only about one a day in a 500-room hotel try to beat the bill. His chief duties are three fold: To protect guests from their own carelessness, catch and evict occasional sneak thief prowlers and

"see that the help doesn't run off with the hotel". Bed Smokers Dangerous "About 25 guests each night forget to lock their doors", he said. "But it's usually easy to spot prowlers. Most often they're young punks who think they can get away with murder and nobody will notice it. But they're not hard to handle". "Our big problem is to protect our guests from themselves", said Howard. A constant worry in all hotels is the guest who drinks too much and falls asleep in bed while smoking. "I saw one man go into his room pretty much under the weather", recalled the detective. "I peeked through the transom and saw him lying in bed snoring with a lighted cigaret in his mouth. I went in, took the cigaret and put it out. He never even knew I had come into his room".

now has her own company and will have her own say-so on how her vehicles will be sold to the public. Resting on the "Mourning Becomes Electra" set, she opined that people should be better informed about the films they are going to see. Too often they emerge from a theater saying, "that wasn't at all what they said it was going to be". "The selling campaign", she observed, "seems to be aimed at one particular group. Sometimes it is the bobby-soxers, and sometimes it is adults. The exploitation seems to confuse, rather than explain what the film is about". The actress said that pictures should be explained to the public in an effort to interest all groups. Speaking of semantics, or the science of words, brings us to another matter. Semantics would have a field day in Hollywood, where words often are used strangely. One thing that has always intrigued me is the way signs are worded to discourage visitors on movie sets. There is the plain, "No Visitors", which is the signal that anybody can enter. This also applies to the casual announcement, "This Is A Closed Set". More emphatic but equally ineffective is the "Positively No Visitors". You can swim easier in salt water, but faster in fresh.

Hollywood

By BOB THOMAS
Hollywood, (AP)—"What did Chloe Glockenspiel do that was so bad?" "Stop fretting about sex, Malcolm Dinwiddie!" "If you were Sophie Hossenfeffer, would you keep the throttle open?" This, roughly, is the type of catchword that has been used in recent months to induce customers for certain movies. It is a device that has been exploited since the early-day flickers, and Rosalind Russell now speaks up against what she considers its over-use. Roz is in a position to ponder such weighty matters, since she

Mickey Rooney's Wife
Files Suit Against Him

Los Angeles, May 22—(AP)—Actor Mickey Rooney, 26, one of filmdom's highest paid actors, has been sued for separate maintenance by the former Betty Jane Rase, mother of his two sons and who, at 17, won the beauty contest title of "Miss Birmingham", Ala., of 1944.

She alleges the actor, who was divorced in 1943 from Actress Ava Gardner, used fraud in obtaining a property settlement with her, representing his annual salary as $36,000 whereas it actually is approximately $250,000.

Mrs. Rooney contended that last Jan. 24 she signed a settlement calling for $10,000 a year for 11 years, $5,000 for the purchase of a house and $1,500 to pay back bills.

Later she said she learned the actor not only earns $250,000 annually in pictures, but draws another $100,000 from Mickey Rooney, Inc. The latter firm, her complaint contended, was formed for "the sole purpose of depriving his wife, as well as his former wife, Ava Gardner" of their share of his earnings.

Chinese Students in Fights; Several Hurt

Shanghai, May 22—(AP)—Several students were reported injured, some seriously, in fights today between striking and non-striking enrollees at Shanghai universities.

The trouble began at National Chinan University, when members of the youth army's 202nd division rushed to the campus in an attempt to rescue former division men, now students, who were among the non-strikers.

Police intervened as strikers and non-strikers tangled. Six students were arrested, and 20 former youth army members were reported injured seriously.

On-Job Wage Hike Bill
Gets Scrutiny of House

Washington, May 22—(AP)—The house rules committee agreed to take a look today, after weeks of delay, at a bill to raise ceilings on wages and allowances for some 600,000 veterans training for jobs by working at them.

Rep. Kearney (R-N.Y.), author of the bill, told a reporter: "It is my personal opinion the committee may just be going through the motions."

The veterans committee approved the measure April 26 and has been asking ever since for the rules committee to give it clearance for a house vote.

Under present law, a single veteran training on the job gets no help from the government if he makes $175 or more a month. The same is true of a veteran with dependents if he earns $200 or more.

The Kearney bill proposes to raise these ceilings to $250 for

Decline in Australian Birth Rate 'Alarming'

Canberra, May 22—(AP)—Information Minister Arthur A. Calwell told Parliament today that if the present decline in the Australian birth rate is not arrested "there will be no Australians 100 years hence."

Calwell gave Parliament these figures: In 1901 35.1 per cent of the population was under 15 years of age and four per cent over 65. Today 24 per cent are under 15 and 7.8 per cent over 65.

"Ring" Sneaks Reds Over U. S. Border, House Group Finds

Washington, May 22—(AP)—Rep. McDowell (R-Pa.) said today a house un-American activities subcommittee has uncovered evidence that a "ring" is sneaking Communists from Mexico into the United States.

McDowell said the subcommittee also found "Communism deeply entrenched in Hollywood and the movies."

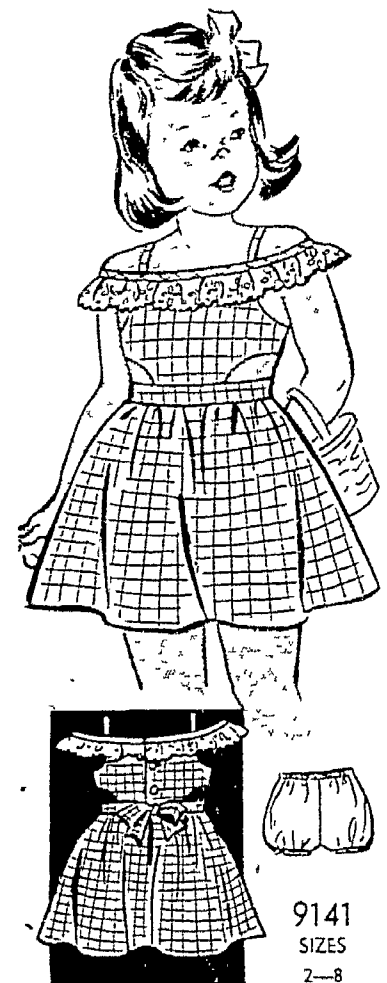

Just back from California, the Pennsylvanian told a reporter he returned by way of the Mexican border to check on "tips and leads" regarding the ring.

"There is absolutely no question that there is such a ring," he said. "Give No Details."

"The un-American activities committee is not concerned with illegal immigration, any more than with the numbers racket or cheating on income taxes."

"The immigration we are con-

Accenting the Need

Gashland, Mo.—(AP)—The fire committee of the Men's club was discussing progress of plans to organize a fire department when the chairman's wife, Mrs. Virginia Williams, interrupted to announce that a nearby farm home was ablaze.

The six committee members jumped into a car and roared off to the fire, but stood helplessly by as the house was destroyed.

Afterward a member noted: "When we get a fire call now all we can grab is our hats. We really need more than that."

cerned about is that of people who come over our border to do something to our country."

He gave no details as to where the ring operates along the border or how many people it is getting across.

McDowell and Chairman J. Parnell Thomas (R-N.J.) were members of a subcommittee which went to the coast with investigators Robert E. Stripling and Louis Russell for hearings on Communism in Hollywood.

Clever Red Program

"It was a highly successful trip," McDowell said. "Communism has gotten into the films. We are prepared to name the films and who got it in and how."

"It was put over cleverly. The producers are not to blame. The wool was pulled over their eyes."

"In all the branches of the industry there are Communists. Among the 'grips' who move scenery, the artists, soundmen, photographers, some directors, and what is more important, among the writers."

On the basis of information gathered by the subcommittee and some to be checked further by the investigators, the congressman said the full committee will hold open hearings in Washington next month.

Husband's Defense to Open Its Case in Trial

Newton, Ill., May 22—(AP)—The defense was scheduled to begin presentation of testimony today at the trial of Homer (Bill) Wilson, 29-year-old war veteran, charged with murdering his wife, Lavern, 23, last Feb. 3.

Defense Attorney George Bauer said he planned to call about 75 witnesses, many of whom also were placed on the stand by the state.

F. E. Shipman, insurance broker and one of the last of the witnesses called by the prosecution, testified yesterday that Wilson took out fire insurance on his barn two weeks before Mrs. Wilson's mutilated body was found in the charred ruins of the building.

Wilson, who was treated for burns after the fire, said he suffered them "while I was trying to rescue my wife" from the flaming building.

Twins Win
Kent, O.—(AP)—Teachers at nearby Rootstown high school say they never could tell Wilma and Lillian Thomas apart.
When the teachers averaged the four year marks of the 17-year-old identical twins, Wilma, the Valedictorian, had 3.417. Lillian had 3.41.
The teachers, however, decided to have both girls speak at Friday night's commencement.

Accused Rape Slayer Gets Life in Prison
St. Louis, May 22—(AP)—A circuit court jury of 12-men after three hours deliberation last night found Claiborne L. Richardson, 31-year-old laborer, guilty of the rape slaying of nine-year-old Shirley Jean Coxey here Thanksgiving night, 1945, and fixed his penalty at life imprisonment.
Richardson who pleaded innocent clutched the arms of his chair as the verdict was read, but kept staring at the floor as he had during the two-day trial.
His 63-year-old father, A. V. Richardson of Marshall, Ark., had testified in support of the defense theory of insanity.
The prosecution introduced testimony by police who stated Richardson signed statements admitting the crime and later repudiated them. It charged the defendant was morally depraved and cunning, rather than insane.

PENALIZED
Early Virginia laws provided a penalty of a year's imprisonment for any colonist absent from church services three times without a valid excuse.

U. of I. Red Gag Approval is Likely
Springfield, Ill., May 22—(AP)—Legislation authorizing University of Illinois officials to deny use of the institution's facilities to subversive and unAmerican organizations reached the floor of the Illinois house today with a unanimous passage recommendation.
The house executive committee yesterday approved the measure, sponsored by Rep. Charles W. Clabaugh (R-Champaign), by a 9 to 0 vote over objections by representatives of the American Youth for Democracy and the American Civil Liberties union.
In the bill's preamble, Clabaugh contended that the AYD was working on the U. of I. campus "for destruction of the principles which democracy holds sacred".
Charles Hall of Chicago, AYD executive secretary for Illinois, told the committee "we believe that our program and our activities further democracy in the United States".
Hall contended the bill was anti-democratic and would institute a system of tough control on the American campus.
Myron Tripp of Urbana also opposed the legislation on the ground that it would "suppress or limit freedom of assemblage". He expressed doubt as to its constitutionality.

England Sets Out to Strengthen Empire With Africa Project

British, French, Belgian Colonial Leaders Plan New Policies

By DEWITT MacKENZIE
(AP Foreign Affairs Analyst)

British military authorities in London disclose that the projected withdrawal of England's main Mediterranean and Middle Eastern defenses to East Africa is to be accompanied by an economic, social and political development in Africa which will be "truly historical."

Hot on the heels of this momentous statement we see British, French and Belgian colonial administrators meeting in Paris to discuss a program for intensive development in Southern, Central and Equatorial Africa. They tell us that this great project is to be started at once.

Start Without Fanfare

All this has been got under way without blare of trumpets. Indeed it's only now we get a close-up preview of a vast enterprise that is calculated to strengthen a British empire which some gloomy prophets have said darkly was breaking up. This prediction has been voiced more persistently since mighty India with her four hundred millions has been granted her independence, thereby removing one of the brightest gems from the imperial crown.

Winston Churchill said a few days ago that Britain would continue to play a leading role in world affairs, "Albeit not in the full stature of former days." He added: "It is my unquenchable faith that if we have hard times ahead—we shall come through the difficulties in the end."

I don't think we can quarrel with such an estimate, always provided as indicated in yesterday's column—England doesn't forget that her fate as a sovereign democracy is linked with America's.

England Still Strong

The term "breaking-up" isn't an apt one to use in connection with the changes in the British empire. It is undergoing a metamorphosis which thus far has resulted in dividing it into two parts—the British Commonwealth of Nations (comprising sovereign states) and the empire (including the dependencies). These two divisions complement each other.

Britain has scattered around the globe many great and potentially rich colonies which are inhabited largely by primitive peoples. In the ordinary run of things these colonies must remain within the empire for many decades before they will be capable of self-government.

When England has weathered her present economic crisis, and has set the wheels to turning in her richest colonies, she should do well for herself. As Churchill says, she will continue to play a leading part in world affairs.

GI Fiancées in Austria Leaving for America

Vienna, May 20—(Delayed)—Thirty-two fiancées of American veterans, accompanied by 10 children, were scheduled to leave Vienna by Pan American Airlines clipper today for New York in the first such group shipment from Austria.

The plane is scheduled to land at La Guardia field at 9 a. m. New York time Wednesday.

Passengers, their ages and destination included:

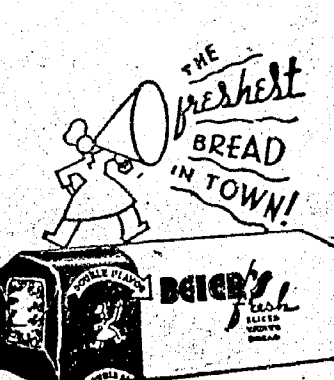

Inge Machiedo, 19, Palestine, Ill.

CHIANGCHUN SURROUNDED

Nanking, May 21 — (AP)—Besieged Changchun, capital of Manchuria is now completely encircled by Chinese Communist forces. Nationalist dispatches reported today.

Government troops, however, were credited with reentering Kunchuling, 36 miles to the southwest. Fighting was reported in the streets.

Information Director Hollington Tong placed the total communist strength against Changchun as 90,000 troops, including 20,000 Korean communists.

HAMS WEIGHING OVER 14 LBS.: A&P will gladly sell you a whole ham (if you wish one that size), or with the center slices removed. When A&P removes the center slices, however, the remaining parts are sold as the butt portions and the shank portions—not halves—and priced accordingly.

What's more, slices sold as center slices are cut from the very center of the ham between the knuckle on the butt side and the kernel on the shank side. Every center slice contains the full round bone!

WHOLE HAMS . . . . . 63¢

HAMS WEIGHING 14 LBS. AND LESS: Here again A&P will sell you a whole ham or, if you prefer, the butt half or shank half. When A&P sells you half a ham, however, that's what you get . . . with the choice big center slices left in . . . not just the quarter or third . . . with the center slices removed.

British Government Leaders Prepare for Fight With 'Rebels'

Leftist Group in Labor Party Makes Caustic Remarks About It

London, May 22—(AP)—Labor party leaders, girding for a showdown with a leftist rebel bloc at next week's annual party conference in Margate, declared today that the aim of British-American understanding is to prevent war.

"The Labor government," the ruling party's leadership said in a booklet published today, "does not propose to take sides in a lineup for the next world war."

The booklet, entitled "Cards on the Table"—a phrase much favored by Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin—was designed in part to disarm caustic left-wing critics of British foreign policy, who contend that Britain is snubbing Russia and aligning herself too closely with the United States.

Konni Zilliacus, one of the leaders of the "Rebel" parliamentary delegation in the Labor party, disclosed yesterday that five party units had drafted an anti-American resolution for submission at next week's five-day conference in Margate.

He said the resolution condemned U. S. aid to Greece and Turkey as "a menace to world peace" and demanded a United Nations investigation of American policy in Turkey.

"Rebel" Allegations Denied

The leadership's new booklet, while critical of some actions of both Russia and the United States, rejected entirely the assertions of the "rebel" bloc that the British-American alliance was aimed at Russia.

"The really striking feature of world politics today is not that Russia is frightened of America," the booklet said, "but that America, with undisputed control of half the earth and all the oceans, is frightened of Russia."

"For Russia, which foresaw a struggle with America, Britain was not a possible ally, for Britain could not under any circumstances adopt a policy which might lead to war against America."

"Apart from other considerations, Britain depends entirely on supplies imported by sea and could be starved to defeat in a few weeks by the American fleet (which is) six times as big (as Britain's)."

Commenting on a "rebel" assertion on the theory that "America provides the money while we provide the men," the booklet declared: "That suits us better than providing both men and money."

Meets British Royal Family

In this photo, Dr. R. H. Marloth, brother of Werner S. Marloth 218 Ottawa avenue (center, black suit), is shown shaking hands with the Queen as the royal family leaves the research station which Dr. Marloth directs after touring the grounds during the recent South African visit. The King is at the left, Princess Elizabeth is visible at right beside the Queen.

A letter from Mrs. M. M. Marloth, mother of the two men revealed the visit today.

Mrs. Marloth, 82, who has many friends here and has visited in Dixon many times, indicated she plans a trip to Dixon at some time in the future.

Mrs. Marloth reports that she saw the royal family several times at receptions and at other points on their tour of the country.

Steelworkers' Boss Orders No Strike by Union for 2 Years

Atlantic City, N. J., May 22—(AP)—A two-year ban on strikes, ordered by United Steelworkers President Philip Murray, paved the way today toward what he said would be uninterrupted production in the country's steel industry and an "opportunity for stabilizing our country's internal economic affairs."

Murray, holding down the dual role of United Steelworkers president and head of the parent CIO, issued the no-strike order last night in a letter approved by the union's 41-man board of directors at their biennial meeting here.

Murray said the no-strike rule was "vital to preserve the integrity" of the recently-concluded two-year wage agreement which he described as "one of the most notable achievements in the annals of our nation's collective bargaining history."

The letter, directed to the Steelworkers' 3,000 locals, said it was "imperative that we understand thoroughly:

- "1. We must meticulously respect provisions of the collective bargaining contract.
- "2. That under no circumstances must there be work stoppages during the life of the agreement.
- "3. We must resort to the orderly methods of adjudicating our differences by taking recourse to the grievance procedure of the

Will Make Solvents Out of Poison Gas

Honolulu, May 22—(AP)—The Star-Bulletin said today 5,000 tons of poison gas stored at Schofield barracks would be shipped by Army transport in the next few weeks to the west coast to be converted into cleaning solvent.

The paper said the gas, stored in large cylinders, would be sent to Bremerton, Wash., for processing.

The Army public relations declined comment.

Canada to Ship More Newsprint to South

Ottawa, May 22—(AP)—Canada has reached an agreement with Argentina to ship that country 9,000 additional tons of newsprint this year in return for the privilege of purchasing 9,000 metric tons of edible oils, Finance Minister Douglas Abbott informed the House of Commons last night.

Canadian newsprint mills sold Argentina approximately 42,000 tons of newsprint in 1946.

Chinese Nationalists Rush Aid to Changchun

Nanking, May 22—(AP)—Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek's headquarters rushed a "sizeable" force of warplanes to Manchuria today as communist troops tightened their encirclement of Changchun, embattled Manchurian capital.

Unconfirmed reports from Mukden said two Nationalist armies were on the way to Manchurian battlefronts as reinforcements.

Chinese dispatches acknowledged loss of several points around Kirin, 60 miles east of Changchun.

Here you see — in one sleek and tidy package — all the things it takes to make the style-setter and the standout performer of the year.

One eye-filling glance will tell you that here's the clean-lined beauty and hint-of-tomorrow look that will cue the trend of car design for many seasons to come.

But just wait till you get this beauty in motion, and you'll know why folks are saying there's nothing on wheels to match it.

That bonnet's not broad and haughty for looks alone; it's brim-filled with power — the satin-smooth power of Buick's big Fireball straight-eight engine.

Go where you will, its two solid tons and soft coil springs on all four wheels make byroad and highroad equally smooth.

You get this in any Buick. But you get something more in the one pictured here.

Its snug top shelters you at the touch of a finger. Its door windows and even its front seat are power-operated by push-button control.

And thanks to the magic of Buick's new Silent Zone mounted bodies, you ride in a solid and road-steady silence such as Convertibles have never known before.

In other words, here's style and size, power and room, convenience and comfort all wrapped up in one of the most exciting models of the year's most wanted car.

That means, of course, that it takes a bit of waiting before one can be yours. But the best way to shorten that wait is to take the all-important step — and get your order in now. We'll take it with or without a trade-in.

A FINGER TOUCH—and the door window runs up or down automatically. Other handy controls raise or lower the top and adjust the front seat.

YOUR CAR IS TUNED FOR A HAPPY MOTORING VACATION.
